PEOPLE: 'From You to Me' finalist in Mumpreneur Awards

Congratulations to GA member 'From You to Me' on being selected as a Finalist in the 'Best International Trader Category' of the Mumpreneur 2011 Awards; the results of which will be announced at the Mumpreneur conference on 25th September.

This innovative business, which is a previous Gift of the Year winner, is run by Helen Stephens and Neil Coxon, who are life as well as business partners and the proud parents of Mila River.

Helen told giftwrap: "We have created a successful international business but still remain true to our family values and priorities. We have also maintained a UK manufactured product but created a business model that has successfully exported our products to many English-speaking countries around the world. We understand cultural diversity and, although our current exports are all to countries that speak English, we have had to adapt our products and have created a website for five international markets where customers can browse locally and buy in their own currency."

The competition is being judged by a formidable panel that includes Dragon's Den star Duncan Ballantyne. We wish 'From You to Me' the very best of luck. The Mumpreneur Conference is worth a visit if you are a Mum and either run, or are thinking about running your own business.
