

from you to me®

Neil Coxon
managing director

Neil is the founder of from you to me and, as Managing Director, he is responsible for all aspects of the growing business – implementing strategies, developing new business and inspiring innovation.

Neil was born in South West England and escaped the beaches of the English Riviera to study psychology at Hull University followed by a very successful career in Human Resources. As he climbed the corporate career ladder he increasingly specialised in people, organisational and leadership development. He also focused on the importance of business culture to its success. Neil's passion for psychology and relationships inspired him to create the from you to me products.

He has worked across a number of industries – manufacturing at Ford Motor Company, retail at The Burton Group, fast-moving consumer goods with Nutricia, telecoms with Orange and France Telecom and media at the BBC. Neil's position at Orange as Leadership and Cultural Development Director involved helping to build one consistent brand across different cultures and languages.

Neil left the world of employment in 2007 to follow his dream of running his own business and from you to me was founded. He now lives near Bath, UK with his partner Helen, daughter Mila – and a few chickens. He runs to keep fit and loves to sail whenever he can.
